Edmonton Letter

Edmonton, Alberta, Nov. 24— Conservation of oil and gas in the Turner Valley field— the artificial restriction of production in order to preserve the market— continued to occupy the special session of the Alberta Legislature this week with indications that the house would continue to sit for several days.

Some division of opinion marked debates in the house itself, and in its committees on the subject. The fact that i nthe past members of the Social Credit have jeered at artificial restriction o production oi other products in various parts of the world— such as coffee in Brazil and grain in the United States, when these products are needed in the world—made it difficult for some of the members to apppove the conservation idea at home.

It was revealed during the hearings that the Alberta government is paying the chairman of its conservation board, W. F. Knode, who was brought in from Texas, $1,000 a month for his work and that the other two board members are getting substantial salaries too.

Premier William Aberhart's announcement that he would go to Ottawa as soon as he could get away from the session, in order to talk with the federal government about refunding of Alberta's 160 million dollar public debt, was an indication to observers here that the provincial government thinks that it is going to be able to get the backing of American finance— providing the dominion government will take over the responsibility by guaranteeing the province's obligations.

Thus the province is going right back to the position in which it stood three years ago when the dominion government offered to make provincial refunding possible providing the Alberta government allowed the dominion to have some voice in affairs in which it would invest a huge sum. That is, the dominion wanted to establish a loan council which would consist of one representative of the federal government, one of the provincial government, and one of the Bank of Canada which would handle the refunding. Aberhart and his government refused to give the dominion any rights in the matter and therefore passed up Alberta's opportunity. It is indicated now that instead of keeping control of the refunding loans within Canada, the Aberhart government prefers to hand over to American financiers, dealing through H. R. Bond and J. J. Scott of Los Angeles. The government has refused so far to state openly the terms on which it is dealing.

Out of balance financing to the extent of a $2,768,066 surplus on income account was shown by a report on public accounts for the last fiscal year which ended March 31 last, in an analysis made public by Provincial Treasurer Solon Low after being requested by Conservative Leader D. M. Duggan. Those accounts take no notice of capital and interest defaults of close to 20 million during the past three years, onthe province's fiscal obligations.

That report was accompanied by an official announcement that the government is going to hold back about $10,000 of the funds which it is supposed to grant to the Edmonton public school board.

The government has held back half its interest due on its bonds held by the school board, with the result that the school board has lost more than $30,000 to the government. The board decided to establish the same treatment toward the government and pay it half interest on the school board bonds held by the government.

It told the school board that if it would not pay the government full interest, the government would hold back enough of the grant to make up the full amount. And that is being done.

As attorney-general, Aberhart refused to reveal how much the government's Don Quixotic fight against windmills has cost Alberta taxpayers, he said that he could not tell the legislature how much the province has thrown away on court references on legislation and claims which obviously were ultra vires— and which G. F. Powell, former "Adviser" here has said since were known to be illegal when they were passed. The question on the expense was asked by John W. Hugill, K. C., former attorney-general who lost that post because he told the government and the lieutenant-governor that the acts were illegal before they were passed.

The government's appropriation of $200,000 to finance the "treasury branches" was set on the path to formal validation by a bill in the house to legalize the system, the branches having already been operating for almost two months. Propaganda was not overlooked; the bill was accompanied by new attacks on chartered banks, despite the fact that banks have offered every possible cooperation to give the government its opportunity to prove the idea feasible and worthwhile.

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs By Spectator

Ottawa, Nov. 24— The signing of the new trade treaties at Washington by Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States probably marks a new epoch in the economic relations of the English speaking democracies. The negotiations which have covered the greater part o fa year have been intricate and complex, but hope if felt that the two treaties signed last Thursday will not only greatly extend and facilitate trade between Canada and the United States and the United States and Great Britain but that they will prove a major and effective attack on trade restrictions throughout the world. The treaties themselves directly affect over one third of the international commerce of the world.

Among the most important concessions granted to Canadian exporters in the United States are those relating to live cattle, fisheries and lumber. In all, 202 items in the United States tariffs are affected, and taking 1937 sales to the United States as a basis, concessions granted to Canada cover 83 per cent of our exports to that country. The President of the United States by the United States Trade Agreements Act has the power to reduce tariff rates up to fifty per cent and concessions granted to Canadian produce range from the percentage downward. Livestock quotas were increased under some categories and other rates of duty were lowered. A very considerable reduction was given to tariff rates on a wide variety of fish entering the United States. In some cases the reduction was the full fifty per cent allowed under American laws. The lowered rates affect cod, haddock, hake, pollock, cusk, rosefish, salmon, halibut, swordfish, mackerel, herring and various kinds of fresh water fish. In the case of exports of lumber and shingles quotas now in force were either increased or abolished and the regulation that Canadian timber must be marked to show country of origin was cancelled.

Reduced rates were given in the American tariff on a number of agricultural products including grains, hog products, horses and hay. Silver fox furs duties were reduced by 25 per cent. Reduction were made in duty on a number of metals and non-metallic minerals, on acetic acid and a number of miscellaneous manufactured goods.

Concessions granted by Canada to United States products affect 447 items in the Canadian tariff. Of these 283 items have been reduced in rate while 146 represent the binding of rates that have been effective under the 1935 agreement. These concessions again taking the 1937 trade figures as a basis, represent 58 per cent of all imports from the United States. Many of the concesions given the United States have been made possible through a prior understanding and agreement with the governments of the United Kingdom and the government of South Africa. Similarly Canada agreed to certain cutting of imperial preferences inthe British market to allow the United Kingdom to make tariff reductions to American exporters.

In the case of agriculturaul and fishery products Canada's new duties practically parallel duties to be charged similar products from Canada entering the United States. Rates on tobacco and spirituous liquors have been reduced. Tariffs have been lowered on chemicals, drugs and paints, on earthenware and glassware on various metals, on certain kinds of machinery including diesel engines, on textile products and on leather and manufactures of leather.

Canada has abolished the three per cent special excise tax levied on the duty-paid value of imports. The removal of this charge on imports from the United States will mean a serious los in revenue to the Dominion exchequer which will have to be made up in some other way. It is stated however that the removal of the tax will "help to restore the competitive position of many Canadian producers who have had to pay this tax on their imports of raw materials and semi-manufactured goods while meeting the cocmpetition of goods imported free of this tax under the British preferential tariff." The effect of the tariff changes on Dominion revenues can be seen only when the treaties are in operation. Much will depend on the extent to which lowered tariff rates may stimulate trade in various articles.

Canada has given up the six cents a bushel preference on wheat in the markets of the United Kingdom. Great Britain has also agreed in its treaty with the United States to make a seasonal reduction on apples imported from the United States from 4 shillings and 6 pence to 3 shillings per cwt. Canadian apples continue to be free of duty in the British market. Lumber reduction on exports from Canada to the United States have also been arranged partially at least on a basis of compensation for reductions on certain classes of lumber from the United States imported into the United Kingdom. Canada's bacon quota on the British market is not affected buut United States hams are stabilized onthe free list. Canada's preference on automobile exports to the United Kingdom is not disturbed. There is a reduction, however, in the preference on automobile exports to certain colonies such as Ceylon and Hong Kong. There has been a reduction in the margin of preference on some canned goods to the United Kingdom market.

The principles kept in mind during the intricate negotiations of the two treaties have been the extent to which the exporting country is the main or potentially the main source of supply of commodities affected, the interests of business affected, the broad interest of consumers, and the retention subject to defined alterations of the British preferential agreements. The two inter-related agreements are a great experiment in dredging the channels of trade between the great English speaking democracies. "The friendly association of the great English speaking nations" has been heralded as raising the hope that a "new vitality has been given to the basic principles of a civilised world order."

CANADIAN COAL PROBLEM THIS IS YOUR PROBLEM

At the same time as the Western farmers are busy defending the peg price given them this year, comes a plea from the National Coal Committee and the Western Canada Fuel Association asking co-operation between East and West in the matter of coal consumption. At present with enough coal resources for an estimated 36,000 years, Eastern manufacturers buy barel yhalf their requirements from Canadian Mines. The coal bought from the United States in the last ten years represents a drain from Canada of well over fifty million dollars a year. Figuring on this minimum, they declare that if spent at home this sum would employ forty thousand unemployed men about eight months of each year.

Over a similar period Dominion Relief expenditures and also loans to provincial governments were just under fifty million a year. Their claim, therefore, is that coal bought at home would virtually solve Dominion unemployment.

Minister of Finance Dunning last March said that in 1936 money circulated over 21 times and bank deposits over 18 times. Thus if the fifty million were retained here, circulation would be increased by the stupendous sum of one billion dollars every year.

Vested interests with claims in American mines are said to be the chief factor in creating the problem.

The Turgeon Report states that Eastern manufacturers should in return for the protection they are getting be prepared to make some contribution to enable their Western fellow countrymen to pay for their good. The railways may well be asked to help solve the problem. With the contention that it requires an $8.00 freight rate to bring coal from West to East, it is difficult to agree.

In his case Hon. Norman McLeod Rogers, minister of labor said that in 1931 preferential tariffs gained over fifty one million net for Ontario or over fifteen dollars yearly for every inhabitant, while in the same way, they cost Alberta over twenty-six dollars for every inhabitant.

Such faults must be remedied to maintain a united Canada and the Coal Committees feel that fair play in coal buying will help immeasurably in increasing prosperity, eliminating relief, and lighten the tax load, to say nothing of spreading contentment in the Dominion.

It is, within the bounds of possibility for a "top-notch" writer to earn half a million dollars in one year, and if she or he be also a dramatist, to make from half a million to possibly a million.

Take for example the case of 'Show Boat' the probable earnings from which were not far from the following:—

(a) For the serial rights in "The Woman's Home Companion" ... $45,000
(b) For the movie rights ... $65,000
(c) Author's share of the talkie rights ... $20,000
(d) Royalties on the book .. $125,000
(e) Rayolties of the Musical Revue ... $75,000
(f) For use of the name as title for radio hour ... $15,000
...TOTAL ... $345,000

Quick come quick go, a flash on wall and pane,
A hoot, a zoom, a zish, slashing the dead
Uncounted night. You rush amain —
You do not know I hear you in my bed.

Up a dark hill into a darker wood
Swished tail and feline purr
Then nothing; past deep farms on yelping road . . .
Who else awake to wonder who you are?

A FARMER'S MUSINGS
(By Tim Longbotham)

:o::

TUTTI FRUTTI—

Budding statesmen on the look out for bright examples of good government might find inspiration in one of the Islands of the Southern Pacific. The 30,000 dusky people who live there under the guidance of a female monarch are not only free from debt, but also have a fund of several million dollars to draw upon when hard times come.

In view of this unusual situation it may be said that the lady in command has a better knowledge of budgeting than the so-called experts, who pull down fat salaries for the simple task of digging the old hole a little bit bigger — —.

The report that a fellow had paid for a large farm during the past two years made us jealous of his ability until we learned that the guy's old man is in the brewing business.

If a report, originating in Europe, was founded on fact, scientists over there are now experimenting with drugs which they hope will inspire men to enter into battle with more than ordinary courage.

This bids us say that if the scientists need a guy to try their medicine on, we'll be tickled to death if they'll come along just before milking time, the first morning the weather is hitting 40 below zero.

RETURNING HOME?—

If the Duke and Duchess of Windsor settle down in England, as a recent press report indicated, they are likely to receive a cordial welcome from a great host of people.

As Prince of Wales, and also as King, Edward rendered services to the state which were worthy of a better reward than exile in a foreign land, nd now that loyalty to the present King and Queen has been pretty well established among all classes, no one should seek to prevent him from returning to the land of his birth.

His abdication was carried out in a helpful and courageous fashion and if one may judge by the numerous difficulties now confronting her, Old England needs the services of all her sons who are endowed with intelligence and courage.

During the world war, and later on while investigating the plight of unemployed miners, Edward displayed these fine attributes in no uncertain fashion.

A STRANGE YEAR—

Although many people may not fully realize it the year of 1938 is likely to be regarded as one of the most remarkable in the annals of man.

Apart from the happenings in Europe and the orient, conditions in the Holy land are of such a tragical nature that folks everywhere are deeply interested..

Large bands of men are now roving the highways which ancient prophets used on thier peaceful missions, and the avowed purpose of the marauders is to destroy the Jewish Settlements.

In the high watch towers are young Jews who keep guard night and day, and when thealarm is given men and women spring to arms in defence of their lives and property.

Quite recently, the city of Jerusalem, held sacred by Hebrews, Christians and Moslems, was the scene of a fierce battle and before it was over the blood of Englishmen, Arabs, Jews and Scots ran down the cobbled alleys.

With racial animosity running wild, British Statesmen are now confronted with the task of convincing the opposing elements of the necessity of living together in peace and harmony.

When the different customs, traditions and Religious faiths of the two races are considered it is not too much to say that even one so well renowned for wisdom as King Solomon might have zbeen baffled by the nature of the problem.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

:o::

At all Christian Science Churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." One of the Scriptural quotations in the Lesson Sermon is Psalm 34:17, "The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony. Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. Evil is not power. It is a mockery of strength, which erelong betrays its weakness and fall never to rise."

CANADIAN COAL FOR CANADA

It has long been our contention that Canada should use her own coal, and not import from Pennsylvania and other States at a cost of so many millions of dollars leaving the Dominion. The long haul is one of the main reasons given, for not buying from the mines of Western Canada. To offset this we believe the Dominion Govt. would be wise in subsidizing the railways to a certain amount to overcome this objection. So much is paid out in relief that would be more judiciously spent in providing more work for our miners, more work for more railway employees, etc., etc. That the benefit deived from a policy of this kind seems so plain— "that he who runs may read." The article on the front page of this issue from the Canadian Coal Committee gives some very vital and important details. Surely Canadian coal for Canada's people would be a wise business transaction.

THE TRADE TREATY

The Trade Treaty between Great Britain and United States and Canada has finally received the official signature of each interested country. Generally it is believed the Treaty will work to the benefit of all countries. While it is felt by some that the 6 per cent reduction on U. S. wheat will work against the Canadian Marketing of wheat, others feel that the superior quality of Canada's hard wheat will overcome this feature.

Western Canada's big problem is her wheat market. A research company has recently been formed to find other uses for wheat, which will create further demands and hence cut the amount of the annual surplus.

"HE WHO IS WITHOUT THIS SIN"

—:0:1—

Hints are being dropped here and there in Western Canada that the wheat farmers on the prairies are very foolish to accept bounses from the federal government in the way of a fixed minimum price. Speakers and writers who take this stand point out that wheat is a world product and must eventually face world prices, that obtaining artificially high douses the prices at the expense of the tax payer is uneconomic, does not increase the wealth production of a country and is bound to lead to reprisals, and that producers of other primary products can with all justice ask for the same treatment from the government.

The old idea that the western wheat producer must cheerfully submit to world price levels no matter how low is hard to down, and the strange part of it is that most of the men who advance these arguments against the bonusing of wheat producers are themselves profiting from artificial price fixing. "Let he who is without this sin cast the first stone."

What critics of a fair minimum price for wheat fail to realize is that Western Canadian farmers are fed up on economic sophistries. They want to deal in hard facts and they know well the whole price structure in Canada is artificial, and consequently they determinedly demand that they share in the price protection so lavishly extended to others.

The importance of wheat production in the national economic scheme makes it worthy of bonusing when price disasters threaten. Over the years wheat is the most important commodity in Canada's export trade. The railways look upon a big crop as a godsend and they depend upon its carriage for a considerable proportion of their earnings. Western wheat farmers are the best customers of manufacturing interests. Without the wheat producers of the prairies Canada indeed would be a poor country.

Make no mistake, the minimum price of 80c a bushel, obtainable from the Wheat Board this year was secured in the face of determined opposition, although much of it was silent and secretive. — The Budget.

DIPLOMATS

—:0:1—

At a conference held during the Great War between the Russian foreign minister and the ambassadors of England and France, the question arose as to which race made the best diplomats. Opinions varied. The Frenchman considered the Russians the best; the Englishman's choice fell on the Germans. But the Russian minister chose England, and this is how he explained his opinion. "We Russians are certainly a gifted people and find it easy to secure vast funds of information, but we lack patience. The Germans are excellent workers, but so thorough that we can tell their plans ahead of time. The secret of diplomacy is to prevent the other man from seeing your cards, and in that the English have never ever been body. No one ever knows what they're going to do next—because they don't know themselves!" —Der Turner, Berlin.

DON'T OVERLOOK FISH

Our Canadian Fish Have the Finest Flavour Says Government Expert.

Miss Hazel J. Freeman, Dominion Government Cookery expert says,— "The clear, cold waters of our northern lakes and rivers, the salty tang of our two great oceans make Canadian fish expectionally fine in flavour."

"The secret in cooking fish," says Miss Freeman, "lies in having the heat hot enough to broil or bake them quickly, and above all not too long. Of course, the timing is up to the cook, and it is this very timing that marks the difference between having fish that is cooked to perfection, or stewed until it has lost its heart and soul. So keep an eye on the fish, when the flesh is firm and tender, that's teh time to stop.

For fillets one inch or less in thickness, it takes 10 minutes in a hot oven (500 oF), whether the fish weighs one pound or five."

THE ENGLISH TONGUE

When the English tongue we speak
Why is 'break' not rhymed with 'freak'?
Will you utell me why it's true
We say 'sew', but likewise 'few';
And the fashioner of verse
Cannot cap his 'horse' with 'worse'?
'Beard' sounds not the same as 'heard'
'Cord' is different from 'word',
'Cow' is cow, but 'low' is low,
'Shoe' is never rhymed with 'foe',
Think of 'hose' and 'dose' and 'lose';
And of 'goose' and also 'choose';
Think of 'comb' and 'tomb' and 'bomb'
'Doll' and 'roll' and 'home' and 'some'
And since 'pay' is rhymed with 'say',
Why not 'paid' with 'said', I pray?
We have 'blood' and 'food' and 'good',
'Mould' is not pronounced like 'could',
Wherefore 'done', but 'gone' and 'lone'
Is there any reason known?
—Penny Fare, house journal of London Transport.

THE SPORTS LEDGER

With only three weeks to go the bowling league is becoming more fun with every night. Interest runs high, and many bets on the side serve to keep players keyed up. Winners of high scores last week were Elsie Sorsensen and Scottie McGregor.

Teams now stand as shown— Roberts, Sowden, Crellin, Freeman, Gray, Giroux, Wright, Anderson, Van Tighem, Cohoe, Crellin, Cockx.

Log Cabin Hockey Trophy Offered In New Puck Circuit

Hockey teams of Cheadle, Lyalta, Lalroy, Keoma, Kathryn, Delacour, Langdon, Indus, Dalemead, Carseland, Namaka, Strathmore, Eagle Hill, Bruce Lakes and Glencairn will be interested to learn that the Log Cabin Garage is donating a trophy for competition this winter.

This competition is for hamlets and small localities of the district, and the cup must be won three times before becoming the property of the team. Teams will be called upon to register their players by Dec. 15.

It is intended to confine the competition t oteams not registered with the A. H. A. No professionalism or commercialism may be practiced.

District champions will be decided by January 30. Districts will be within a 15 mile circle of the Log Cabin garage. Winners of north and south districts will meet in the finals by December 14 when the winner will be awarded the trophy.

While nothing definite has happened concerning local hockey, arrangements are going forward so that fans will soon see the boys in action again. Invitations to enter two leagues have been received and possibilities are that it will be the Calgary and district league of last year, practically doubled. This will mean more games and better hockey for enthusiasts in Strathmore.

There was a very largely attended meeting of the rate payers of the school districts surrounding Rockyford on Friday afternoon, Nov. 18th. The object being to discuss the proposed larger school districts.
